SAVING LIVES TOGETHER

HUMANITARIAN SITUATION

Madagascar was severely affected by two successive years of drought, exacerbated by the El Niño phenomenon. Grand Sud is the country's poorest region with 91% of the population living with less than USD 2 per day. In the worst-affected areas, a large proportion of families are adopting extreme coping mechanisms, including the sale of productive assets and land, consumption of cactus or seed as food and migration of whole families. The most recent Integrated Food Security Phase Classification assessment, conducted between September and October 2016, indicates that 850,000 people are currently in need of urgent assistance.
