Visibility Guidance for SSHF funded partners

Key points

- These guidelines have been designed to ensure that response funded by the South Sudan Humanitarian Fund (SSHF) incorporates information and communication activities aimed to raise awareness of donor, international community and general audience about the humanitarian situation in South Sudan, as well as the results and the impact of their support.
- This document contains requirements for all implementing partners under contracts with the SSHF.
- The SSHF encourages all partners to promote their work and assistance, including the use of social and traditional media, contributing to the transparency and accountability of the Fund.
- Partners are encouraged to be in touch with OCHA Humanitarian Financing Unit – HFU to maximize the impact of their communication efforts around the SSHF.

1. Minimum visibility requirements: Implementing Partners

Before implementation

- At the time of allocation announcement, implementing partners are encouraged to (highly recommended):
  - Tweet and tag @OCHASouthSudan, use the hashtag #CBPFs
  - Post on Facebook, and/or link to the SSHF website
  - Refer to the SSHF support in external materials at the country, regional and HQ levels (if issued).
  - Refer to SSHF support in your press releases country, regional and HQ levels (if issued).

During implementation

- During the project implementation or immediately after, partners are asked to (mandatory):
  - Collect audio-visual material throughout the project cycle for agency internal usage or to be shared with SSHF/HFU. The audiovisual materials should focus on:
    - specific assistance and relief aid funded by SSHF,
    - the affected population assisted through SSHF-funded activities,
    - SSHF visual branding (if used).
  - Mention SSHF as the source of funding in public external materials (i.e. monthly and weekly reports, press releases, annual reports) that refer to the funded projects, as well as in the interviews, events etc. by:
    - Ensuring that the SSHF is mentioned in the text;
    - Using, where applicable, SSHF visual branding (see point 2, below).
  - Indicate at the implementation site that the project is supported by the SSHF, by using the appropriate tags and visuals (see below).

Photos and success stories
Each partner should submit at least one human story and 4 pictures for each project funded by SSHF. Please refer to Annex 1 and 2 to more information and guidelines.
• Standard text / lines to be used by partners when promoting the SSHF:
  o “Funded by the South Sudan Humanitarian Fund (SSHF)”
  o “Supported by the South Sudan Humanitarian Fund (SSHF)” o “Funded by the SSHF”
  o “Supported by the SSHF”
  o If viable, refer to the project number.

• During the project implementation, partners are encouraged to (highly recommended)
  o Use social media (mainly Twitter and Facebook) to communicate the results of the projects and enhance transparency and accountability ▪ Tag / link SSHF @OCHASouthSudan on twitter and OCHA South Sudan on Facebook;
    ▪ Post stories, pictures and collaborate on coordinated activities on social media promoted by SSHF, OCHA South Sudan or any other humanitarian actor working on South Sudan response.
  o Organize press conferences or press visits - if the context/security of the region allows so – to inform about the project (its start or results by the end). Alternatively, press releases can be very useful o Issue newsletter periodically to communicate results of specific actions. It can be via email, with brief information and achievements o Publish stories on the organization website (if available) mentioning SSHF contribution.

After implementation / reporting stage

• At the reporting stage, the implementing partners are encouraged to collect and submit the audio-visual material with the final report on the use of SSHF grants.

2. SSHF “branding” and visuals

• CBPF wordmark: This wordmark is to be used as CBPF visibility at global level for both printed and digital collateral including all publications, campaigns, posters, flyers, website and social media. The wordmark spells out the acronym (“SSHF”) and the Fund’s full name (“South Sudan Humanitarian Fund”).
  • CLEAR SPACE: The wordmark should always appear clearly defined. A minimum amount of clear space should be designated around it, with no other visual element or type infringing upon it. Since the wordmark will appear in different sizes, this amount of space must be defined relative to the logo itself.
  • PRIMARY COLOR: The primary colour of CBPF wordmark is inspired by UN blue and also used by OCHA branding (Pantone 279C - RGB 65, 143, 222 - HEX 418FDE - CMYK 68, 34, 0, 0).
  • BACKGROUND: Make every effort to place the wordmark over a solid background. The wordmark may appear in blue (positive) only over light, neutral colours (light grey, light brown, etc.). If the wordmark is dark, whether it’s a solid colour or a simple image, use the negative (white) wordmark. As a general rule never place the wordmark directly over a photograph.
  • INCORRECT USE: SSHF wordmarks may not be altered, changed, modified, or added to in any way. You should pay special attention when resizing the wordmark to not distort it and always keep the same proportions.
  • SSHF logo can be downloaded [click the link to download] here in formats: SSHF LOGO
3. Some practices and messages that need to be avoided

- SSHF allocations should never be referred to as “funding from OCHA”. While OCHA manages SSHF, the decision allocations are approved by the Humanitarian Coordinator based on jointly identified priorities by humanitarian partners in South Sudan.
- Do not reproduce the OCHA logo at the project implementation sites or on printed materials; and do not modify SSHF wordmark.
- While ensuring SSHF visibility, partners should not refer to or use branding materials from individual donors to SSHF. If you wish to further highlight SSHF donors, please be in touch with OCHA South Sudan – Humanitarian Financing Unit.
- SSHF is not a donor and should not be referred to as one.
- SSHF does not implement projects.

Annex 1: Success stories

One of the most powerful ways of communicating the impact of projects to donors and international audience is through success/human stories. Therefore, all implementing partners are requested to submit at least one human story for each project funded by the SSHF before the end of the implementation cycle. It can be either video interviews or written/photos stories showing the impact of the project on individuals, families, communities.

The goal is to show the human side of SSHF-funded projects, the impact of SSHF funds on the life of people from South Sudan and the importance of sustain the current life-saving efforts. The stories must have an emotional side, that makes the audience reflect but mainly understand the added value and crucial role of humanitarian response in South Sudan. The ultimate objective is engaging new donors and maintaining the current ones, assuring early and sustained funding.

Main components of the story:

- Human face: Stories aimed to show the human impact of projects, supporting all the economic/social information collected. Emotions are thus the core of the text/video. Each story will have one or more beneficiaries telling how the project had a positive impact on their lives and on the community. Questions such as: “What I am able to do now that I wasn’t before?” or “How did it change my life?” or “How has my community benefited from the project?” should be answered. Written stories can start with the life story of people – how was his/her life before and how is it now? –, complemented with the general information about the project.

- Briefly explain the context: What were the main challenges faced by the community, by the beneficiary, and how did the project contribute to address the situation?

- Explain the SSHF and implementing organization’s added value: Why the funds received were crucial for the community and how did the SSHF and the implementing partner work together to implement the project? What did the project achieve? Why is it important to sustain humanitarian response in this region/area?

- Complement with some key numbers: highlight the main numbers of the project: funds received, how many people reached, the real necessity and lack of resources etc.
- Keep it short and simple: Long texts are rarely read by audience. The secret is to keep it simple and direct, as well as emotional. Avoid jargons and or difficult language that is difficult to understand understood by people outside of humanitarian organizations. 500 to 600 words is the expected length of the written stories. 30 seconds to 1 min is the expected duration of video stories.
- Photography: see annex 2, below

Annex 2: Photographs

Good pictures are essential for showing the impact of the projects, humanitarian needs and enhance accountability. Furthermore, good images are key to create a connection between the audience and the South Sudan people. Therefore, all implementing partners have to submit at least four good pictures for each project funded by SSHF before the end of the implementation cycle – two for the success stories (annex 1) and two others to be use in communication materials. If possible, ask a professional photographer to help with the images.

Basic photography guidelines:

- Choose your main subject: Rather than having general pictures, with several information in one image, is better to choose one main subject: one person or small group, couple, mother and son, one single building or infrastructure. It can complement it with groups of people or general pictures. But it is crucial to have close caption pictures, portraits, that can be more impactful and catch the attention instantaneously. Even if the picture is showing aid distributions, is better to have one single person receiving the goods than a large group. The photos chosen should be those which will best illustrate the results and impact of the action and should match any written information submitted.
- Dignifying images: The image is aimed to tell a success story. Thus, all pictures must be dignifying and transmit hope, self-resilience and wellbeing. Try to show people who are fighting for a better life instead of “victims”.
- Out of focus images will not be used. So please, check the quality of the image immediately after taking the picture, and if it is out of focus, repeat it.
- Portrait and landscape options: Whenever possible, send horizontal and vertical options. It facilitates the designing process.
- Credit should always accompany a photograph (photographer name, organization).
- Each image should have a brief caption: location, name of people who appears on the image, etc.
- Ask and keep a copy of image use authorization from people photographed.
- Photos should ideally be submitted in a document (with captions) and as high-quality image files via sharing platforms such as www.wetransfer.com, Dropbox or similar.
